NEW MEXICO CIGAR STORE FINEST IN SOUTHWESTRemodelled Home of Big Tobacco House Beautifully Finished and a Model of ConvenienceRemodelling of the home office and retail store of the New Mexico Cigar company, at 113 West Central avenue, which has been under way for some time, has been completed, and the result is the finest cigar and tobacco store in the entire southwest. The fixtures are in mahogany, of severe finish and exceptional beauty, trimmed in imported Italian marble, the same wood and marble being used in the finishing of the attractive show windows. The whole east wall of the room is filled by a huge pipe case, especially built for this store, as were all the fixtures.
The store is cool and inviting and is a material improvement to the street.
A modern glass awning having been included in the recent improvements.
Immediately behind the retail store are the offices and stock room, a thoroughly modern equipment for keeping tobacco and cigars in first-class condition and containing one of the largest stocks in the west.
The rear of the building is occupied by an airy cool and billiard room, with fine tables, and which also has just been refurnished and decorated.
The plant is one of the most complete of its kind in the country and will compare favorably with the best tobacco shops in the big cities.The New Mexico Cigar company is one of the pioneer business concerns of Albuquerque and its wholesale business now extends all over the southwest. C. L. Sherwood, the manager, has been with the company for seventeen years, coming here from El Paso, where he has been the manager of four stores for the past nine years. Prior to that time he was with the company at Roswell for seven years. His specialty is the handling of retail cigar and tobacco trade and with the extensive stock of the New Mexico Cigar company behind him, is adding many improvements to the local store which will make it popular with tobacco users.KIRBY ASKS CHANGE IN CHARGE MADE AGAINST HIMBalks at Complaint and Insists on Extradition Proceedings. Papers Expected from Arizona Next Week.J. W. Kirby, the young veterinary surgeon arrested here Thursday by Chief McMullin at the request of Sheriff T. E. Pulliam of Coconino county, Ariz., has refused to return to Flagstaff to answer the charge filed against him there without extradition. Sheriff Pulliam came here yesterday and Kirby, according to the police, agreed to waive extradition.
When it came time to take the train last evening, however, he is said to have changed his mind.Sheriff Pulliam wired County Attorney G. B. Wilson at Flagstaff of the situation and received a reply to the effect that Governor Hunt, of Arizona, was away and the papers could not be obtained at Phoenix until Monday.Kirby is charged in the formal complaint with obtaining money under false pretenses. He admits passing a check for $20 and another for $40, but is said to have balked at facing the charge preferred. He is said to have offered to return voluntarily if the charge is changed to passing worthless checks. He told Chief McMullin when arrested that he was in a position to make the checks good and would do so if given a chance. He told a Herald reporter that he passed the checks in the first place expecting to be able to cover them, but that he afterwards realized he would be unable to do so and left Flagstaff to avoid trouble while getting money together.TRAIN PASSENGER STABS HIMSELF IN ABDOMENDr. W. R. Lovelace, Santa Fe physician, was called to train No. 1 when it arrived here at 7 o'clock last night to treat Gila Apakarsa, a passenger, for a stab wound in the abdomen. The wound was inflicted with a penknife. The man is said to have stabbed himself in a fit of temporary insanity. The wound was about an inch deep and half an inch wide. It was discovered just after the train left Las Vegas, when Apakarsa was seen trying to force his finger into the cut.Apakarsa was on his way from Baltimore to Los Angeles, where a son is said to be in business. He
Station Master Ed Sinclair went with him as far as Gallup, where another Santa Fe officer was to relieve him.Oakley Clifford has added to his tax and automobile service equipment today the Abbot-Detroit car which he recently purchased from the state engineer. The car has been worked over, repainted and decorated and is one of the most attractive in Albuquerque.

its Note This Morning Completing List of Eight. Cushman Phones Delgado."If there ever was any doubt about the sentiment of the people regarding the tract of land on the mesa, it has been dispelled," said President C. O. Cushman of the Commercial club this morning. "I have been told by many business men since the organizations of Albuquerque stepped in to save the land that it would have been the worst kind of folly to let it slip through our hands. The land is safe now. The response to the call for help was most gratifying and showed a splendid public spirit on the part of the organizations, clubs and individuals of this city.""The Odd Fellows lodge volunteered their note for $100 this morning, completing the list of eight giving $100 each. I will telephone to the land office today advising Mr.
Delgado that the money is ready, and will hand it to the city council Monday for transmission to Santa Fe."TOO LATE TO CLASSIFYWANTED—Two young men to sell

THIEF GETS SEVENTY DOLLARS AT THE COMBSSeventy dollars in cash was stolen from a drawer in the barroom of the Hotel Combs yesterday. The barroom was locked at 2 o'clock yesterday morning and when it was reopened the theft was discovered. Entrance was gained through a rear window and the money containing the drawer forced. It was evidently a "one-man job" and the thief was familiar with the place.
